Grievance Redressal Mechanism

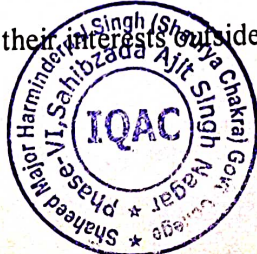

The college has an active student grievance redressal system to assist students in resolving their concerns and complaints. The college has formed a Committee that deals with the issues and provides solutions. The Committee consists of faculty members, administrative staff, and student representatives who are trained to handle grievances sensitively and confidentially. They aim to ensure a fair and impartial resolution process that promotes a positive learning environment for all students.

Grievance Redressal Committee
The Committee investigates and resolves any student complaints on teaching, learning, infrastructure, and examinations at the college.

New students are also involved in an orientation programme that guides them and informs them of the various facilities available at the college, including a grievance redressal mechanism. The college regularly conducts workshops and seminars to raise awareness about the prevention of sexual harassment and ragging on campus. The faculty and staff are trained to handle such situations sensitively and take appropriate action. These workshops and seminars aim to create a safe and inclusive environment for all students. Additionally, the college encourages open communication and provides support services to ensure that any grievances related to harassment or ragging are addressed promptly and effectively.

Various committees have been formed at the college level to investigate student issues. The PTA offers tuition fee concessions for those from the economically weaker section. Departments also hand out free books and study materials to deserving students. Additionally, the college has tie-ups with various companies and organisations to provide internships and job opportunities to its students, helping them gain practical experience and kick-start their careers. The college also encourages extracurricular activities and has a range of clubs and societies that students can join to pursue their interests outside of academics.

Each committee has a convener who works with team members who are faculty members to solve each problem that comes their way. Attempts are made to find a solution to the problem around 15-20 days. The college's principal investigates each complaint and, if necessary, involves the college council and the parents of the affected students until an amicable resolution of the grievances is reached. There is also a Psychology Cell in the College that provides students with mental health counselling.

The college has established an anti-sexual harassment cell to investigate and resolve any incidents of sexual harassment that occur. The college also has an anti-ragging and discipline committee. Every year, as the semester begins, an assembly is held to inform students about the various facilities and services available to them at the college. The convener of the discipline committee addresses the issue of ragging and reads the anti-ragging guidelines to the students during this assembly. Students are strongly advised to abstain from ragging. The college has teams of faculty members on regular patrol duty in the college grounds and building area to check on the students and ensure there are no occurrences of bullying or ragging. Additionally, the assembly also includes a presentation on the college's academic policies and procedures, including information on attendance requirements, grading systems, and academic integrity. This helps students understand their responsibilities as learners and ensures that they are aware of the consequences of any violations. Overall, the assembly serves as an important platform for students to learn about their rights and responsibilities as members of the college community.

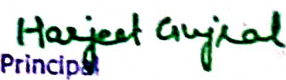

The details of the members of the complaints committee/anti-sexual harassment and anti-ragging cell are mentioned in the college prospectus as well as available on the college website.
