Rainwater Harvesting System installed at three different sites on campus

Harjit G Y
Principal,
SMHPSSCV, Govt. College;
Sahibzada Ajit Singh Nagar

The college has implemented a rainwater harvesting system on its premises to harness the benefits of rainfall and curb water wastage. The system is composed of multiple roof surfaces that channel water into large tanks optimized for groundwater replenishment and percolation, with a total capacity of 1.5 million litres annually. Out of this, 1.3 million litres are utilized for groundwater recharge, while the remaining 200,000 litres are available for general consumption around the campus. The project's efficacy is attributed to the construction of three large tanks, each with a capacity of up to 10,000 litres, which allow for optimal use of the system. The initiative covers 80% of the college's roof space, serving as a dependable source of surface water that reduces reliance on underground water. The collected water is used for various purposes like irrigating gardens, potted plants, and cleaning, promoting eco-friendliness and sustainable water usage. The system increases water availability during droughts, dilutes groundwater salinity, and improves overall water quality.

College's objective to save water

The institution's primary objective is to save water. Water coolers have been installed in various portions of the college which are regularly maintained. The students are advised to turn the tap off after drinking water or washing hands. The water supply is connected between the main building and other blocks. 0% leakage of water is ensured. All the pipes and fittings are checked and monitored on regular basis. Any complaint regarding blocked water supply is instantaneously solved by taking the necessary actions. A lot of future projects are in pipeline which includes setting up of rain water harvesting systems and managing all the water sanitation systems.
