What is Academic Bank of Credits?

Academic Bank of Credits (ABC) is a digital repository of a student's academic credits earned from various recognized institutions. ABC allows students to register and commence credit transfer, however, final outcomes such as credit redemption and the issuance of certificates, as well as the compilation of award records, are managed by academic institutions through the National Academic Depository (NAD) Platform. As owners of academic awards, it is mandatory for academic institutions to register under ABC via NAD.
